“EDUCATION”

Published by the Annual
Staff of Liberty Twp.
School, 1941

THE EDITOR SAYS

This book has been published in order to present the activities of the year in an orderly fashion. Not only the functions of the class room but those all important extra curricular activities.

We hope that this book will remind the patrons of our school of the many things that happened here during 1940-41.

It has been the policy of the school in former years to have the annual published by the Senior Class. It was decided that inasmuch as the book represents the whole school we would choose the staff from the high school. In this way we hope to present a better annual than we have ever had before.

DEDICATION

The world today is involved in one of the greatest conflicts of all time. We in America still enjoy the freedom we have known for the past two centuries.

Due to the leadership of such men as George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and Abraham Lincoln this freedom has been broadened and the feel of liberty instilled in the hearts of all Americans. Color, race, or religion does not lower the standard of equal rights.

Our school bears the name of Liberty and should stand as a memorial to those people who have died to make us free. It is a place for us to learn how to enjoy our liberty to the fullest extent.

Therefore the staff dedicates this book to liberty and patriotism as represented by the flag of our country.

OUR APPRECIATION

Miss Grace Ruppright

When the Seniors came to Liberty for their first year they had Miss Ruppright for their teacher. It was her first year here. She taught them in the fourth grade also. The Seniors expressed a desire to show their appreciation to her for starting them out right.

ADMINISTRATION

Here within are the inspirers and directors of our long cherished ideas and ideals of Life, Liberty, and the "pursuit of happiness," which to us means Democracy.

Seated: Paul Swisher, Ray Zeisloft, Victor Sink.
Standing: Claude Worden, Harley Radebaugh.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Our Board of Education serves as a connecting link between the community and the faculty. The people of the community choose well qualified citizens for terms of four years each. Regular meetings are held once a month during the school term and the last Friday of each month during the summer. Special meetings may be called when necessary.

The type of school we have depends upon the school board. It is their duty to look after the finances, hiring of the teachers, and the buying of school equipment.

At the January meeting they reorganized, electing Ray Zeisloft, President; Claude Worden, Vice President; Paul Swisher, Clerk.

THEY ALSO SERVE

Harry Oman has been our janitor for the past two years. He has been a great help around the school and a friend to everyone.

"Walt" Porter is our mechanic and bus driver. Most of us consider him a "general handy man." If we want anything done we go to Walt, who will always greet us with a willing smile. This is his tenth year at Liberty and he has proved to be an essential part of our school life.

Shirley Feters who does her work quietly and diligently is our cook and is responsible for those tempting dishes which keep us well fed. This marks her fourth year as head of our cafeteria.

The bus drivers are responsible for the safe transportation of the students to and from school each morning and evening. Practically all the drivers have first aid certificates. The buses travel from thirty to forty miles a day and transport from forty to sixty pupils.

Roy Neeley's bus transports pupils of the northwest section of the school district.

Orville Powell has route two of this school district, taking in that section west of the school.

The transportation of route 3 is carried on by Leonard Silveus, his bus transports those pupils of the north and northeast section.

George Rayle's route, which is 4, carries him into Eagle Township.

Walt Porter's section takes those pupils of the southeast and south; and his route number is 5.

Roy Flick drives that bus which transports the pupils of the upper four grades of Benton Ridge from that town mentioned to the Liberty school.

CLASSES

The most important part of our school life is that found in the classroom. Here we learn to speak and write in a fairly correct manner and to read in order to understand the things happening in our tumultuous world. In History we learn how other people have laid down the foundations of this great country of which we are now a part and now we, as future citizens of America are learning, in the vocational subjects, to live and become useful, liberty-loving law-abiding citizens.

REMEMBER

In the year nineteen hundred and thirty-seven the enrollment of the freshman class totaled thirty-two. Thirteen of these pupils were from Benton Ridge.

The class met and elected the following officers: President, Don Huffman; Vice President, Jack West; Secretary and Treasurer, Alice Margaret Brown.

Shortly after entering the freshman class we were officially accepted as "regular" high school members by means of an informal initiation given us by the Senior Class of 1936. Several parties were enjoyed during the year. Five members left us during the year. They were Ruthanna Finerd, Mary Knepper, Imogene Lovell, Maynard Martin, and Paul Smith.

The next year the class entered school and chose the following class officers. President, Eugene Bright; Vice President, Waneta Doll; Secretary, Alice Brown; and Treasurer, Mary Coats.

During the year we were glad to welcome four new members. They were Margaret Ferrell from Mt. Cory, James Warren from Van Buren, Dana Ackerman from Findlay, and Helen May from Rawson.

During our Junior year we elected the following officers from an enrollment of 33. President, David Powell; Vice President, Waneta Doll; Secretary and Treasurer, Margaret Farrell; and Reporter, Alice Brown. We were pleased to welcome Rowena Helms and Ruthanna Finerd to our class.

A VACATION CRUISE

It was in the summer of 1960 when I was aboard the Liberty Bell on my way to Europe that I saw members of the class of 1941 of L. H. S.

Just imagine my surprise when I found that the great commercial artist, Edith Powell, was aboard, and that the captain of the liner was Eugene Brown. His pretty wife, the great American actress, Margaret Ferrell, was traveling with him. The first and second mates of the mighty liner were Robert Parker and James Warren respectively.

That evening as I went to dinner I saw Eugene Bright of Wall Street dining with his secretary, Waneta Doll. At the table adjoining me was the ship's doctor, Don Huffman. Nice going, Don! And nurses, Mary Coats and Donna Emahiser, who were associated with him, were also there.

In a far off corner of the dining room was Charles Farrell, title holder of the Open Golf Tournament of 1958-59.

Music those few evenings was furnished by Fred Frechs' Orchestra with Alice Margaret Brown as featured soloist. Helen May was his first trombonist.

In the amusement room a foursome of school teachers including Lula Smith, Helen Ernest, Violet Bracy, and Pauline Helms of the class of '41, were engaged in a game of bridge.

At the swimming pool I saw Ruth Hartman swimming instructress, endeavoring to teach some passengers the mermaid's art.

I lunched with Nellie Downing, who was in charge of the ship's beauty salon; her assistant was Lola Smith.

The ever famous chemical research engineer, Niles Warren, was aboard going to Egypt, and Richard Rensch was enroute to Oxford to coach athletics. By this time Dave Powell and Jack West had become famous furniture designers and makers, and both were going to Europe to design furniture for the Buckingham Palace.

Of course there is always a group that marry rich men and get to travel for their own pleasure; those were Marjorie Diller and Mary Louise Altman. Wasn't that grand!

Bob Woodward and Dana Ackerman were crossing with their new plane, taking it to England for a test flight. The All-American Baseball Team was going across also and two of its distinguished members were none other than Don Rayle, pitcher, and Albert Wiler, first baseman.

Jim Schey was going to Ireland to fish off the coast there.

There is the review of the Class of '41, all in action in 1960. Some were doing what they had planned in L. H. S.

—Margaret Ferrell.

ACTIVITIES

In order to have a better understanding of Liberty, Cooperation, and Freedom, we must include extra-curricular activities in our every day life. Working together in societies enables us to grasp the meaning of Democracy more quickly and thoroughly. This idea is carried out in our school through our musical choruses and clubs.

BUDDING JOURNALISTS

The members of the annual staff were chosen the latter part of October. Each one had a job to do which was finished the Mid-part of April. The entire staff met several times with Mr. Montague who had the contract for engraving. REPRESENTATIVES

Last year when the council wrote their constitution it was decided that the next year's officers would be chosen the last meeting of the year. The purpose of electing officers by this method is that the older members will be the only ones holding office. The officers chosen were President, Alice Brown; Vice President, Harvey Thomas; Secretary, Mary Coats; Reporter, Joyce Dukes. Each year a new member is picked from each class. The faculty pick a few from each class and then the members of the council vote on the one which they would like to have as a member of their organization. This year the new members were Max Ridge, Freshman; Joe Brown, Sophomore; Eugene Porter, Junior; and Dana Ackerman, Senior. Other members are Don Huffman and Mary Jackson.

Promoting a better understanding between teachers and pupils is the main purpose of the Student Council, which is completing its second year as an organization of the school.

This year it established a new idea which was that of having hall hostesses. These were placed in the halls for the purpose of directing visitors and also to supervise the traffic of the pupils in the corridors. Another feat of the Council was the making of a scholarship banner which was to be presented each six weeks to the class with the highest average. The organization worked together at one of their meetings to choose the design and color for the banner. Due to the fact that the banner was not completed until a late date it was not used this year but it is expected that the banner will be used next year for the whole school term.

Monday was chosen as the day for the council to meet and it was on one of these Mondays that the members decided that the high school students were getting anxious for a school party, of which the council is allowed to give a certain number during the year. The first party that the Student Council gave was in the form of a skating party which was held at the Green Mill roller skating rink. There was a large attendance. Around Christmas the Council gave their second party of the year, which was held at the school house. It carried the Christmas theme clear through, with Christmas decorations, gift exchange and all sorts of Christmas games. The highlight of the evening was reached when Harvey Thomas came in dressed as Santa Claus and handed out Christmas gifts which were supposedly brought by Santa Claus. Many gifts were given as prizes for different games in which the students participated.

CHATTERBOX

The Liberty Chatterbox was published every two weeks throughout the year. For the first time in the last three years a special Christmas edition was published. Both the grade and the high school cooperated in getting material of a Yuletide nature for this issue.

Because of the fact that no specific period could be set aside for staff meetings, cooperation among the staff members was especially necessary.

It has been the aim of the staff to keep students informed of the outstanding accomplishments of clubs and classes within the school, and to inform the people of the community about the curricular, extra-curricular, and "non-classified" activities of Liberty students.

The staff has been grateful for the added interest of those within the community itself, who have given adds to the newspaper.

The staff is as follows: Mary Coats, Editor; James Warren, Sports Editor; Mary Jackson, Society; Joan Oman, Grade and High school news; Loretta Thomas and Eugene Porter, Gossip; Dana Ackerman and Fred Frech, Art; Don Huffman and Waneta Doll, Ads; Jack West and Dave Powell, Circulation; Eugene Brown, Assembling; Don Rayle, Mimeographing; Typists: Helen May, Mary Coats, Violet Bracy, Margaret Ferrell, and Mary Louise Altman. Sponsors: Mr. McClintock, Miss Dickson, and Miss Harpst.

BONS AMIS

This year's Foreign Language Club is composed of the Latin alumni, first year French students, and second year students. Miss Harpst sponsors the club and teaches both classes.

The officers chosen for this year are as follows: Mary Lois Jackson, president; Martha Brobst, vice president; Martha Hart, secretary; Mary Jane Swisher, treasurer.

In September the club met in the school during the day to plan the club activities for the year. It was decided that the meetings be held on the evening of the first Wednesday of each month.

The majority of the meetings were social but the club had as their speaker, Dr. R. J. Wertheim, professor of romance languages at Findlay College for the April meeting. In October, the former members of the Foreign Language Club initiated the new members. This meeting was held at the school building.

Alice and Joe Brown entertained the club at their home in November. At this meeting the members had a treasure hunt.

The members met at the home of Miss Harpst for their December meeting. It was both a social and study time, since games were played but French and Latin myths were also read.

Because of the flu epidemic, there was no January meeting, but the club enjoyed a lively time in February when they had a roller skating party.

For the March meeting, some curiosity was aroused among the Latin students when invitations written in a language unknown to them were received. It was found that they were invited to a party given by the French students. The guests were given menus, printed in French. From those menus, they ordered their meal. Entertainment consisted of a playlet, "Un Jour a la Campagne," which was written by the French students, and group games.

AS THEY SEW

The F. H. A. Club has now been in function for two years. It is composed of Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Girls. This year we gained 20 new members whose names are as follows: Mary Doll, Sarahbelle Compton, Janet and Olethia Parkins, Sarah Ridge, Joan Oman, Sarah Ewing, Eloise Coats, Betty Flick, Martha Wentz, Mary J. Bowman, Ruth Deisler, Colene Helms, Kathryn LaRoche, Thelma Cramer, Marjorie Kulhman, Marjorie Huffman, Mary J. Schey, Iola Wilkinson.

Our Supervisor was Miss Christene Sherer who was a very capable and progressive one. However, she left us the latter part of February for a position as Home Demonstration Agent of Marion County. In her place we have Mrs. Dean Price, our former Home Economics teacher, who carries on very competently.

The Executive board of the Club is as follows: President, Ruth Hartman; Vice President, Betty Downing; Secretary, Joyce Dukes; Treasurer, Loretta Thomas; Historian, Eileen Brown. In cooperation with this Executive Board are the four committees, Finance, Social, Community Affairs and Program.

During the year the Club had various activities. In the fall we had a Game Supper with the F. F. A. Boys. An excellent meal was served, followed by games supervised by several members of the Hancock County Rural Youth Group.

In February we sponsored a Pancake Supper cooperating with the F. F. A. Boys for the public. This was quite successful, especially for the first time.

Another activity, which will not be forgotten especially by the new members was the Informal Initiation which was followed by a Formal Initiation, when the girls took oath and promised to live up the standards of the club.

During the year the girls promoted several projects to acquire money for the treasury. In this they were very successful and expect to take a trip with it.

In doing these projects the girls had the cooperation of several mothers. Also the club has honorary members. They are: Mrs. Lee Dennis, Mrs. Jet Walters, Mrs. George Thomas, Mrs. Harold Brown, and Mrs. Burt Wentz.

The Club has lost two of its active members: Mary J. Schey and Doris Rayle.

SO SHALL THEY REAP

The officers chosen for the club this year are: President, Harvey Thomas; Vice President, Dave Powell; Secretary, Dick Way; Treasurer, Jack West; Reporter, Albert Wiler; Watch Dog, Dick Sherick.

The most important activity of the past year was a four day summer trip to Cincinnati and Southern Ohio. A group of eighteen boys, Mr. Kibbey and Walter Porter left the school house at six o'clock, Monday, August twelfth. The first day was spent in going to Cincinnati, and visiting the zoo. The first night was spent in Carthage fair grounds, Carthage, Ohio.

On Tuesday morning, the group visited the broadcasting studio of W. L. W. An interesting morning was spent at the "Top of the Morning" performance. After the broadcast the group went through the Cincinnati Union Stock Yards and Packing Company. Tuesday night was spent in Owensville fair ground, Owensville, Ohio.

On Wednesday the group travelled from Cincinnati down the Ohio river stopping enroute at the Roosevelt Game Preserve where the majority of the group swam in the lake. Wednesday night was spent in Old Man's Cave, a State Park.

Thursday morning the group started home, stopping at Lancaster to visit the Reform School and at Columbus at the feeble minded institution. A swim was also enjoyed in one of the Columbus municipal pools. The boys arrived at Liberty about six o'clock in the evening, tired but happy.

September 16, the annual Green Hand initiation was held. Seven boys were initiated both informally and formally. The Greenhands are as follows: Dale Cramer; Glenn Clymer; Dick West; Buster Coats; Billy Benham; Clyde Rader; and Hugh Burrows.

On November 15, a game supper in the form of a banquet was held by the F. F. A. and F. H. A. The boys furnished the game and the girls prepared it. After the banquet, the group was led in games by Miss Annabelle Sherer.

A Pest Hunt contest was held with Mt. Blanchard F. F. A. The period was from December 10 to January 10, inclusive. The Mt. Blanchard F. F. A. was defeated by the score of 13,000 to 3,000. The prize was a supper presented by the loser to the winner.

Top Row: Alice Brown, Waneta Doll, Don Rayle, Joyce Dukes, Marcella Smaltz, Don Huffman.

BOOKLENDERS

The activities of the Library Club have included both study and social meetings, which have been held on the second Monday of each month. Most of the meetings were held at the school building, and three social meetings were held at the homes of Alice Brown, Eileen Brown and Joan Oman. Outstanding among the social meetings were the Christmas party and the Valentine Party.

Study meetings have included discussions of methods used in this Library, out of which have come suggestions for improvements. Several of these improvements have been inaugurated and carried out, among them, the new method of checking magazines out and in. It has been the aim of the club to keep the magazines in good condition, but at the same time to have as large a distribution among the students as possible. Any thing which would discourage the use of magazines has been carefully avoided. New covers, purchased for incasing the last issue of several different magazines have been helpful in keeping them in good condition.

Work has continued upon the cataloging of books according to the Dewey Decimal System. An accession book has been gotten in which will be kept a complete list of all books acquired and what ultimately happens to them. At the study meetings, book reviews have been given both of books from the school library and of other new books of interest to high school students.

The librarians have made a resolute effort to learn more about the books, themselves, so that they might be more helpful to those seeking an "interesting" book. It has been their aim and the aim of their sponsor, Miss Harpst, to make the books in the library live, and to make the library a "friend" to everyone.

The club has belonged to the "Book of the Month" club for the past two years. From the selections of that club, were chosen for the library, "Northwest Passage" by Kenneth Roberts, "Readers Digest Reader," and "I Married Adventure" by Osa Johnson.

Presiding as executives for the Library Club were Mary Coats, President; Alice Brown, Vice President; Joan Oman, Secretary; and Martha Hart, Treasurer.

GIRLS' TRIO

The girls' trio composed of Mary Lois Jackson, Alice Brown, and Martha Hart has been an active ensemble this year singing for various occasions. Their first appearance was between acts of the operetta "Tom Sawyer."

At the Spring Concert the trio sang two numbers, "Alice Blue Gown," and "The Bubble," with tableaux presented by other members of the girls chorus. They also sang at various P. T. A., Chapel, and Church programs.

One of the highlights of the year's appearances was their entering the district solo and ensemble contest at Ada, getting a superior rating, in turn, making them eligible for the state competition. "Time Passes Lightly" was the number sung by the trio.

STRING QUARTET

The string quartet, composed of four violins, is another ensemble organized for the first time this year.

Since all the members of this group are underclassmen, we are expecting to hear more from them within the next year or two.

Fannie Smaltz, Ruby Rettig, Loren Williams, and Richard Payne make-up the string quartet.

WARBLERS

A mixed chorus of twenty-eight voices was active this year in the school music organizations. Since the trend is more toward mixed group singing rather than separate boys and girls choruses, especially in the smaller schools, we adopted that plan in our school.

The mixed chorus gave its first performance in the Christmas program, singing "Carols."

They also had a part in the spring concert.

Members of the Mixed Chorus are as follows:

Sopranos are: Loretta Thomas, Maxine Dennis, Mary Jackson, Waneta Doll, Lavon Rader, Sarah Compton, Alice Brown, and Martha Hart.

LIBERTY SYMPHONY

This is the third year that the orchestra has been an organization at Liberty and during that time it has made a number of appearances. They played between acts of the operetta "Tom Sawyer;" Baccalaureate and Commencement Services, and at the Spring Concert given for the first time at Liberty.

They played in the combined orchestra of Mt. Cory, Rawson, and Liberty at our Spring Festival.

There were four new instruments added to our school orchestra this year which were purchased by the school. They were the Cello, Double Bass, Baritone, and Mellophone. The school is planning on getting more instruments next year for a larger orchestra.

MASQUE AND WIG

This marked the second successful year of "The Masque and Wig" Club. The dramatics club has served to raise the standard of acting, the standard of plays presented and has stimulated interest in drama.

All students of the upper four grades are eligible to membership in the "Masque and Wig" Club. This year fourteen new members were admitted to the club. They are as follows: Seniors, Robert Parker, Helen Ernest; Juniors, Tom Boyd, Calvin Rettig; Freshmen, Sarah Ridge, Sarahbelle Compton, Mary Jane Swisher, Marjorie Kuhlman, Mary Doll, Fannie Smaltz, Max Ridge, Martha Wentz, Martha Brobst, and Betty Flick.

The following officers and committees were elected at the first meeting of the club, September 30. President, Alice Brown; Vice President, Harvey Thomas; Secretary, Waneta Doll; Treasurer, Mary Coats. Membership Committee: David Powell, Carolyn Wentz and Martha Hart. Initiation Committee: Jack West, Donna Emahiser, Betty Ridge, Eugene Porter, Joyce Dukes. Finance Committee: Albert Wiler, John Oberholtzer, Joe Brown. On October 21, the group attended the movie "Knute Rockne." Out of a group of 60 members, 52 members went.

The Dramatics Club presented its first play, "Billy's Goat" on December 10. This play, under the direction of Miss Harpst, was sponsored by the Junior Class.

On April 25, the Senior class sponsored the play, "Hobgoblin House." This play was directed by Mr. McClintock.

Both these plays tended to prove the worth of the Dramatics club.

The "Masque and Wig" club was sponsored by Mr. McClintock and the group is greatly indebted to him for his untiring efforts in making the club a success.

BILLY'S GOAT

The Junior Class sponsored the hilarious comedy "Billy's Goat" December 10, 1940. The story is as follows:

Henry Carter (Tom Boyd) runs his business, that of selling carpet tacks, but his family is beyond him. His daughter, Violet (Helen Wilcox), is movie-struck and on the verge of eloping with a director; his daughter, Madge (Martha Brobst), is a publicity hound intent on annexing the world's record for engagements to prominent or notorious men, ranging from South American explorers to the latest pugilistic champion. Her present heart-throb is a currently popular poet, Angel (Don Rayle), who is inspired by April showers and spring gardens. Henry's wife (Mary Lois Jackson) is interested in dinners and parties, and larger and more expensive the better. Even Beulah, the maid (Lavon Rader), who should have been drowned at birth, but someone overlooked the matter, gives Henry many moments of grief.

On a dreary April day, when the family is particularly upsetting, Billy Hay (Eugene Porter) comes to sell Carter a radio program . . . and stays to become the father of the entire family for a month. Henry leaves for a vacation of peace . . . and Billy has his hands full trying to control the destinies of the various members of the household . . . none of whom is willing to give him the least co-operation. He finally resorts to spanking Madge right in the middle of the second act . . . when she is determined to jump from an airplane with two parachutes. This leads to love at first smack; but they are not permitted to be happy until after Violet tries to elope with a married man. Beulah falls in love with Billy as an ideal "movie hero," and the house is cleared of suitors when Billy spreads the rumor that the Carters have lost their money and must go to work. This brings Henry home quickly to kick Billy into the middle of next month . . . but he at last forgives to the extent of offering him the managership of his Los Angeles branch and all ends happily . . . for Billy and Madge. The rest of the family, ironically enough, is not much changed by his month of substituting as Papa.

It was well presented under the direction of Miss Harpst.

HOBGOBLIN HOUSE

The Senior Class sponsored the mystery play "Hobgoblin House" April 25, 1941. The story is as follows:

Miss Priscilla Carter, (Mary Lois Jackson) a rich spinster, aunt of Marian Carter (Alice Brown) and Jill Carter, (Donna Emahiser) who is in the act of trying to keep her young nieces from marrying a couple of young scalawags, buys a tumbledown house in the Ozarks.

When Susan Parkins, (Loretta Thomas) the "Henglish 'ouskeeper," Delilah Worts, (Mary Coats) the colored cook, and Henry Goober (Dallas Moorhead), the gardener, enter Hobgoblin House, they are welcomed by Darius Krupp, (Tom Boyd) the old caretaker of Hobgoblin House. The servants are always seeing hants and ghosts, which are usually nothing more than a sheet hanging on a nail or post.

Everyone tries to persuade Aunt Priscilla to go back to Spring City, but she insists upon staying in the Ozarks until Jill is twenty-one.

When Jack Loring, (Jack West), Jill's fiance, and Frank Harlow, (Eugene Porter), Marian's fiance, learn that the girls have gone to the Ozarks for six months, they immediately follow them there. The girls tell them that the house is haunted, and they absolutely refuse to leave the girls unprotected. They disguise themselves as ghosts and start scaring the servants. They try to scare Aunt Priscilla, she faints, and in the mad scramble the boys' sheets fall off their heads. Aunt Priscilla recognizes them and blames them for all the ghostly phenomena that had been happening all evening.

Marian and Jill find a closet with black curtains in front of it. Krupp tells them that it is known as Bluebeard's Closet. Years ago Bluebeard Bronson (Don Rayle) murdered his wife and hid the head where no one knows.

TULAHILUSI

The Camp Fire girls started the summer of 1940 with an overnight trip to the Camp Fire cabin located east of Findlay. Although the weather was not the best, the girls didn't let that dampen their spirits. It was great fun to cook meals, sleep in bunks, and toast marshmallows before the fireplace.

The bimonthly meetings during the summer were held in the homes of Betty Cramer, Patricia Sink, Ruth Sims, Naomi Ackerman, Mary Jane Swisher and Sara Ewing. These parties included such activities as hiking, roller skating, and swimming.

Four days in the middle of August found the group at a tourists camp on Lake Erie. Every night was excellent for sleeping out under the stars except for the continual buzz of the mosquito. Swimming and boating were the main diversions. Georgianna Swisher and Alice Brown were the swimming instructors and life guards.

During the school year, the girls took charge of student chapel early in December. In February they held a bake sale in Findlay. One of their meetings was spent visiting the county jail after which the girls took their lunches and ate at the home of Sara Ewing. During Birthday Week, they attended church as a group with the rest of the girls of the county.

Some of the members are growing in Camp Fire. Sara Ewing, Betty Cramer, Marilyn Horner, Ruth Evelyn Sims, and Mary Jane Swisher took Trailseeker's rank and others are now ready for their examination, while some of these same girls first mentioned are ready for the second rank, woodgatherers.

The group sold Christmas greetings and have been saving sales stamps for another camp period this summer.

SPORTS

In the construction of America's first line of defense, no factor is more important than the building of healthy, active bodies. In our program of sports at Liberty, this is the major aim. Every student has an opportunity to participate in our interscholastic and intramural sports program. This program includes boys varsity basketball, football, softball, and track. In our intramural sports program we have boys' and girls' basketball, volleyball, softball and ping-pong.

Special points which are stressed in our athletics are cooperation, fair play, and teamwork which are the foundation of good American citizens.

NOISE MAKERS

The cheerleaders this year were Joyce Dukes (Cheermaster), Alice Brown, and Helen Ernest. They were chosen by the student body from a group of fifteen girls.

A fine spirit prevailed among the girls throughout the year.

This year's basketball captain honors went to Jack West. West who was a Senior led the boys through with a fine spirit.

Much of the credit goes to Mr. McClintock in his first year as coach in being able to place the team as well as he did with a group of inexperienced players. There were three lettermen in football and none in basketball.

After going through a none-too-good season, but with a fighting spirit and trying all the time the football team elected a very able and deserving boy, Gene Bright, as their captain.

O CAPTAIN! MY CAPTAIN!

The cheerleaders introduced several new yells and a new school song and here it is.

L—for loyal lads and lasses,
I—intercepted passes,
B—beats the best of classes,

Lets all give a cheer.
Rah! Rah! Rah!

E—energetic bellows,
R—rough and ready fellows,
T—Y for thirsty yellers,

That spells LIBERTY!

The girls received letters as awards for their services.

Jack West, Mr. McClintock, Coach, Gene Bright

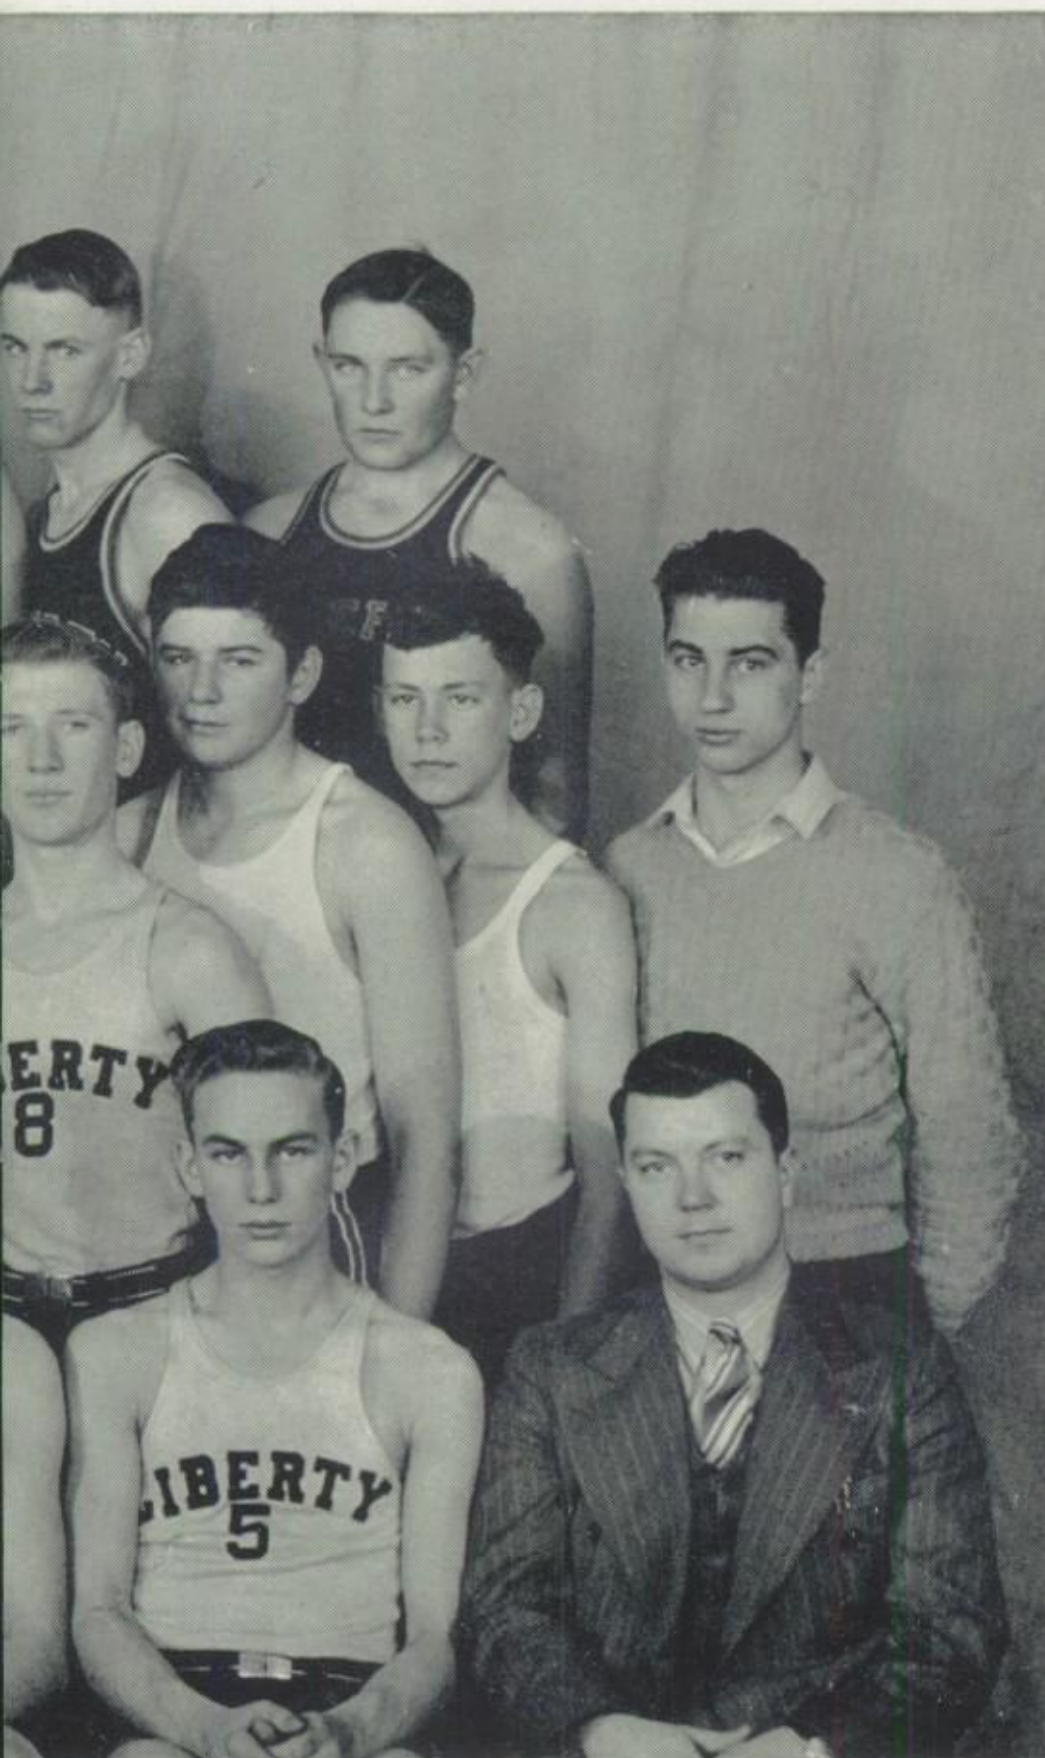

BASKETEERS

The basketball team this year was composed entirely of inexperienced players, as no lettermen returned from last year.

The beginning was sensational, made so by the winning of their first four games. However, such a pace was impossible to maintain, and as the season closed, the wins numbered eight, the losses eight, for a five-hundred per cent ball.

As in football, there will be a large part of the squad back again next year. The boys lost by graduation are: Eugene Bright, David Powell, Jack West, Albert Wiler, (lettermen) Charles Farrell (numerals).

The squad next year will be composed of two varsity lettermen, John and Paul Oberholtzer, and six reserve lettermen, Bus Coats, Calvin Rettig, Dallas Moorhead, Eugene Porter, Joe Brown, and Dale Cramer, all of which should add up to a lot of good basketball next season.

WARRIORS OF THE GRID

Although the football season of 1940, from the standpoint of wins and losses, could not be called a success, it was a definite achievement in the development of sportsmanship and spirit.

With only two lettermen back from last season, and losing only four this year, we may look forward to a year when the win column will much outweigh the loss column. The boys lost by graduation are Eugene Bright, Dana Ackerman, Jack West, Bob Woodward, (lettermen) and James Schey, James Warren, (Numerals).

It would be impossible to give too much credit to the eighteen boys who formed the squad, who, week after week, went down in defeat, only to come back for more. Their spirit and determination were of the highest calibre.

THIN CLADS

This Spring, under the direction of Mr. McClintock track was revived as a sport at Liberty. Over 25 boys reported, but as workouts progressed, this number dragged to 15.

Due to lack of track teams in the county, track work was confined to intramural work mostly. The training received in running, should, however, carry over to the other sports and should prove valuable to the boys.

HOBGOBLIN HOUSE

The girls seem so earnestly in love with the boys that Aunt Priscilla agreed that the girls could marry the boys as soon as they earned twenty-five thousand dollars.

Aunt Priscilla finds a big key in the fireplace. She opens Bluebeard's closet and finds the lost head of Nellie Bronson.

Jim Bronson, the escaped maniac, comes back to the scene of the crime. Bill Wilkins (Jim Warren), Bronson's keeper, comes hunting him.

Patricia Arnold (Martha Brobst), a kidnapped heiress, is found by the boys. She explained all the phenomona that had happened that evening. Krupp, Wilkins, and Bronson are working for Tony Galetti, a Chicago gangster, who had captured Patricia and were holding her for ransom. They were trying to frighten them away before they could identify Patricia.

Jack and Frank capture the kidnapper and receive the reward. Because they will receive twenty-five thousand dollars, they will be able to marry the girls the next day. Delilah even gets Henry before the curtain falls on an hilarious evening of entertainment.

REMEMBER

On November the twenty-first the class presented the play "Miss Jimmy." With the able assistance of Mr. McClintock the play uncovered many ear-markings of hidden talents in our school.

The most important event, however, during the Junior year was the Junior-Senior banquet which was given on May 9. It carried out the theme and setting of Old Hawaii, with palm trees all around the gymnasium and Hawaiian guitars all through the evening for musical entertainment.

During the summer holidays the class sponsored an ice cream social, which proved a financial success.

In the fall of 1940 we returned to Liberty High School with the very distinctive rank of Senior. We immediately began plans for the year by electing the following officers: President, Waneta Doll; Vice President, David Powell; Secretary, Eugene Bright; and Treasurer, Alice Brown.

We were sorry to have Rowena Helms, Ruthanna Finerd, Naomi Parkins, and Niles Warren leave us but we were glad in turn to receive as new students, Robert Parker, Mary Altman, and Marjorie Diller, Niles Warren also came back to Liberty about the middle of the school term.

The Seniors had charge of all the candy and ice cream sales this year and during the first part of the year we sponsored a chicken supper. The proceeds from these sales were used for a Senior Class trip to Detroit.

We are very proud to acknowledge that six of our class have been with us since the first grades. They are Alice Brown, Don Huffman, Mary Coats, Albert Wiler, Bob Woodward and David Powell.
